PCHF clinics are held in GP surgeries with the aim of improving guideline-directed medical and device therapy in NHS patients and reducing health inequalities. The patients are seen once by a consultant cardiologist and (where appropriate) are referred by their GP to tertiary NHS care for ongoing management. I am paid by Inspira Health Ltd for time spent in these clinics only. This is job planned activity. The PCHF service is funded by Medtronic who manufacture cardiac devices. Medtronic are not involved in the decision-making around the choice of consultant cardiologists who undertake particular clinics, the timing/location of these clinics or the clinical decision making at any stage of the patient pathway.	03/04/2023

Steer, Miss Rebecca	Programme Director	Non-financial professional interest	Outside employment	I volunteer with my professional body, the CIPD. I do this in my capacity as a member of the body and not as an employee of MFT, I would be a member regardless. I started as a champion for the CIPD North Senior People Professionals Network in Autumn last year, initially informally but I now attend regular meetings and helped to host an event in January 2023 (this is the rationale for selecting the January date). From September 2023 I will be an ambassador for the Manchester branch supporting with their policy workstream. The reason I am declaring is because it may benefit my professional reputation/career at MFT. I do not provide the CIPD with any commercially sensitive information. I am not involved in any decision making that would financially benefit either party. The NHS already has a partnership with the CIPD.	07/08/2023
