Who is this birth setting suitable for?

Giving birth on the delivery suite at Wythenshawe may be recommended to pregnant women who need extra support because they have a health condition or problem in their current or previous pregnancy. Also if your baby or babies are expected to need neonatal care straight after birth, for example if they are likely to be born early, then a planned hospital birth may be advised.

How many birth rooms are there and how many have pools?

The delivery suite has 8 spacious birth rooms. 1 room has a birthing pool. There are 3 additional rooms for women with complex obstetric needs. There are 2 obstetric theatres next to the delivery suite.

What are the rooms like?

All rooms are set up with various furniture and facilities designed to help you feel calm, safe and in control such as:

- Soft mood lighting and choice of music
- Birthing aids such as birth balls and birth stools
- Private bathroom with toilet and shower facilities
- A bed
- Equipment for midwives to monitor you and your baby
- Essential emergency medication and equipment should it be needed for you or your baby e.g. if your baby requires any support with breathing following birth (resuscitation).

What pain relief is available?

All types of pain relief offered are available on the delivery suite at Wythenshawe including gas and air, Pethidine or Diamorphine, Remifentanyl and epidural. For more information about each of these see pain relief in labour.

If you wish to use a pool for pain relief in labour then this is possible but only one room on each labour ward has a pool so if it is already in use, you may not be able to use water in labour. If this is important to you, you may wish to consider a different place of birth where a pool is more likely to be available.
