

Mummy's Star

What? We are the only charity in the UK
'supporting pregnancy through cancer and beyond'

More specifically the charity focuses on supporting women and families where the:

- Woman is diagnosed or treated for cancer during her pregnancy
- Woman is diagnosed or treated for cancer within a year of her giving birth
- Family in the first year of a birth lose their female partner as a result of cancer

How? • One stop advice and links, supported by Macmillan

- Confidential forums for women, their partners and their wider families to meet others and get peer support
- Small grants programme to provide families with breathing space
- Advocacy and campaigning for change, better information and choice for patients

"I didn't realise anything like this existed....but very glad to hear you do and there are others in my situation." Jane, Brighton

"I've finished chemo and start radio on Tuesday. I'm very nervous but your page has given me hope and strength xx" Samantha, Yorkshire

"Mummy's Star carries an important message for these women - they are not alone in this and other people have experienced it too. Practical advice and support means so much more when it comes from those who have the relevant experience"
Richard Simcock, Oncologist

Contact Us

We're here to help, so visit our website for more information or contact the team via email.

e: info@mummysstar.org
www.mummysstar.org

